

MEGACITY — Gangs & Named Leaders

The complete criminal and leadership roster of the megacity.

What is in here. Three separate things: the 53 authored named gangs (each with its own dossier), the 50 authored named leaders who run the factions and power blocs, and a note on how individual gang members are handled.

NAMED GANGS — 53 TOTAL

Street gangs 11

GANG	THREAT	DOSSIER
Neon Reapers	3	Neon-painted bruisers who run the lower hab-blocks with fists and modified stim-injectors.
Chrome Fangs	4	Chrome-jawed enforcers who collect protection money from every vendor in the lower sectors.
Dead Volts	2	Young taggers and vandals who short-circuit transit systems for kicks.
Rust Wolves	3	Factory-district squatters who tap power lines and shake down street vendors.
Gutter Kings	2	Undercity gamblers running drone-fighting rings in abandoned maintenance tunnels.
Scarlet Razors	4	Blade-augmented street warriors known for territorial knife wars in the slum corridors.
Hollow Boys	2	Teenage hab-block break-in artists who strip vehicles for parts.
Acid Saints	3	Stim-dealing gang with a quasi-religious devotion to consciousness expansion.
Bone Circuit	3	Underground pit-fighting promoters who wire contestants with combat augs.
Static Hounds	2	Street racers and transit hackers who jam traffic control systems for illegal drag runs.
Pulse Jockeys	2	Adrenaline-junkie street racers who steal vehicles and terrorize residential blocks.

Cyber-cults 11

GANG	THREAT	DOSSIER
Church of the Machine	4	Zealots who believe flesh is sin, forcibly augmenting captured citizens in underground temples.
Neural Ascendants	5	Elite hackers seeking digital transcendence by uploading consciousness into city networks.
Iron Communion	3	Industrial-district cultists who run illegal augmentation rituals in abandoned factories.
Void Signal	4	Mysterious collective that broadcasts encrypted signals driving listeners to acts of cyber-terrorism.
Silicon Prophets	3	Charismatic cult leaders using deepfake tech to impersonate officials and recruit followers.
Flesh Denied	4	Extremists who harvest organic tissue to fund full-body cyberization for their congregation.
Archive Keepers	2	Data-obsessed sect that hoards stolen information in hidden server farms beneath the city.
Pulse Children	3	Neural-hackers who dose victims with experimental stimulants to push their cognition past safe limits.
Digital Saints	3	Self-proclaimed digital Robin Hoods who hack financial systems to redistribute wealth.
Chrome Heralds	4	Evangelical cyborg missionaries spreading their faith through gifted, and tracked, implants.
Rust Prophets	3	Industrial doomsday cult that worships machine decay and ritually sabotages factory equipment.

Mercenary outfits 10

GANG	THREAT	DOSSIER
Iron Wolves PMC	5	Elite private military contractors who take any job for the right price, from corp hits to gang wars.
Blackout Brigade	4	Sabotage specialists who cripple factory output on contract from rival megacorps.
Razor Company	4	Bounty hunters and extraction teams who operate in the grey zone between law and crime.
Ghost Protocol	5	Untraceable operatives who specialize in political assassinations and deep-cover infiltration.
Steel Curtain	3	Dock-based smugglers who move illegal cargo through fortified shipping corridors.
War Dogs	4	Combat-augmented veterans who sell their firepower to the highest bidder.
Night Talons	3	Nocturnal hunters who specialize in night-time extraction and intimidation operations.
Siege Breakers	4	Demolition experts who can crack any fortified position, for a price.
Spectre Unit	5	Former intelligence operatives running a parallel shadow network within city governance.
Havoc Corps	3	Chaos-for-hire mercenaries contracted to create diversions and civil disruptions.

Organized-crime syndicates 11

GANG	THREAT	DOSSIER
Obsidian Cartel	5	The dominant narcotics syndicate controlling synthetic drug manufacturing across multiple sectors.
Golden Circuit	5	White-collar crime syndicate with tendrils in every financial institution and courtroom.
Crimson Hand	4	Brutal crime family running protection rackets and human trafficking operations citywide.
Night Market Consortium	4	Underground trade network that controls the flow of all black-market goods in the undercity.
Viper Syndicate	4	Dock syndicate specializing in hazardous materials smuggling and toxic waste disposal contracts.
Phantom Exchange	3	Digital crime syndicate running shadow financial markets and crypto laundering operations.
Silk Road Revival	4	Ancient crime network reborn, trafficking in exotic goods, slave chips, and mutant specimens.
Steel Throne	5	The apex crime organization suspected of controlling puppet officials throughout city governance.
Emerald Serpents	3	Medical crime syndicate dealing in counterfeit pharmaceuticals and stolen patient data.
Black Ledger	4	Corporate crime ring that steals patents and sells regulatory approvals to the highest bidder.
Deep Current	4	Shadowy dock syndicate controlling human trafficking routes through underwater cargo tunnels.

Specialist crews 10

GANG	THREAT	DOSSIER
Neural Ghosts	4	Elite netrunners who steal memories and identities through direct neural interface hacking.
Chrome Surgeons	3	Back-alley cyber-surgeons running illegal implant shops in the lower sectors.

INDIVIDUAL GANG LEADERS AND MEMBERS

The game does not ship a fixed, named roster of bosses and crew for each of the 53 gangs. Instead, gang figures (internally called "gang lieutenants") are generated as you play, each with a generated name, traits, and a short backstory. Because they are generated, the exact names differ from one playthrough to the next, so there is no permanent list to print.

Their names are built from a small first-name pool — Razor, Hex, Vyn, Spool, Scrap, Dax, Tova, Quill, Mara, Ash — combined with a larger surname pool, producing figures such as "Razor" plus a surname turning up as a lieutenant in the streets.
